Major issues decided by few at polls

2 forced into run-off

PAHOKEE - Ada Conley and Curtis Miners won Pahokee City Council seats outright, Tuesday, May 8, while Ronnie Graydon and Ed Lee will meet in a runoff election, Tuesday, May 15. A low turnout Tuesday, produced just 779 voters, or about 41 percent of the registered vote, at the municipal election.

In a tight three way race, Graydon and Lee advanced to the runoff, while a third candidate Glenn Carrick was disqualified by a scant three votes. Graydon received 309 votes, Lee had 210, and Carrick managed 207. City Clerk Betty McCoy said a recount is usually required after such a narrow decision.

There seems to be no need for a recount in the other two council races. Miners was the overall leading vote getter as he tallied 481 ayes to unseat incumbent Jon Mock, who registered 249 votes. Council President Conley received 435 votes to 252 for Bill Johnson.

Graydon, 43, 140 N. Flame Ave., said he was pleased with Tuesday's results. "I urge all the voters to return to the polls next week," he said.

Saying he would continue to stress his two years of council experience, Graydon indicated he planned to campaign as much as possible over the next week. "I'll be seeing some people," he noted.

Graydon, currently assistant manager with the South Florida Conservancy District, said the period between the general and runoff election

Voters say no to city manager

PAHOKEE - With a resounding cheer, Pahokee residents greeted election returns, Tuesday night, May 8, which showed the city manager proposal had been voted down 355-298.

In addition to defeating the city manager proposal, voters also showed their opposition, in a straw ballot, to selling and serving alcohol on Sundays, with a 397-265 vote.

Pahokee residents retained the current mayor-council form of government, in voting against the city manager form of government.

Mayor Duncan Padgett, one of the strongest opponents of the manager proposal, said he interpreted the vote against the city manager as a vote of confidence for the current government.

"It (council-mayor type government) has been working for some 60 odd years and it can continue to work," he said.

"You can look at the record and see there's nothing wrong with the operation," Padgett continued.

The vote should end proposals to alter the current type of government, at least for the time being, Padgett said. "I think its (manager) a dead duck for a period of time anyway."

Council members Ada Conley and Walt Rashley both said the vote ended the manager issue as far as they were concerned.

In voting against the extended alcohol hours referendum, residents voted against a proposal which would allow the sale and consumption of alcohol from 2 p.m. Sunday to 3 a.m. Monday.

PAHOKEE - City Council members eagerly await the results of Clerk Betty McCoy's tabulations.

Marina agreement approved

By TOM KISKEN
BELLE GLADE - "Termed by some as the city's 'dark horse' over the last decade, Belle Glade commissioners approved an agreement with the South Florida Water District which would put total control of the city marina and its dock back in the city's hands.

The city would also gain about $727,600 from the water district to make improvements to the marina.

District board members are scheduled to vote on the agreement later this week.

Altman said, "The impact to the city and benefits that will accrue over the years I don't think can be matched by any decision in my ten years on the commission."

Commissioner Charles Goodlet, one of the designers of the original marina, agreed with the mayor's assessment.

Search for GCI inmate goes on

BELLE GLADE - Glades Correction Institute officers continued to search Wednesday, May 9, for one of two inmates who escaped Tuesday, May 8. The other escapee was recaptured about two and-a-half hours after his break at the 20-Mile Bend Ranch.

GCI Lt. Diane Woods said Wednesday morning that the search has been extended to include Canal Point and Pahokee. Officers are still searching the 20-Mile Bend Ranch up to Loxahatchee.

"We don't have any leads," Wood said. "We're just trying to stay on top of it."

Woods reported Tuesday that over 50 GCI and Palm Beach County Sheriff's deputies were involved in the search.

Woods said the two men escaped from a work detail of about 40 inmates at about 11 a.m. The men ran into a corn field.

The escapee is Daniel Loneragan, 20, formerly of St. Petersburg, according to Woods. Loneragan was serving a life sentence for several charges including: first degree murder, attempted battery, battery on a law enforcement officer, attempted escape, burglary and grand theft.

Loneragan is described as a white male, 6-foot-two, about 140 pounds, slender build, ruddy complexion with brown hair and brown eyes.

Officers recaptured Curtis Edward Nowling, 27, at about 1:25 p.m. Tuesday, in the general area where the escape was made. Nowling was charged with escape. Formerly a resident of Fort Myers he was in the first year of a five year sentence for an earlier escape from Polk County.

MORRIS and GMO unleash a country rocker, at Thursday's performance, in Belle Glade.

Gary Morris' country flair

By TOM KISKEN
BELLE GLADE - Contemporary country music took the spotlight Thursday night, May 3, at the Dolly Part Cultural Arts Center, with all eyes riveted on Gary Morris and his band, GMO.

Relying on tried and true songs from the past, while also unleashing several tunes from the just released "Faded Blue" LP, Morris captivated the near capacity audience throughout the 90-minute concert, sponsored by the Palm Beach Junior College Glades Campus.

Morris' versatility shone through, as he swept away the audience with ballads such as "The Wind Beneath My Wings" and "The Love She Found in Me," and then rocked a country storm with rockers "Headed for a Heartache," and

Recollections of a pioneer family

Editor's note: The following is the second part of a series documenting the experiences of one of the pioneer Glades families, the Henry Wilson Martin family.

By RUTH S. IRVIN

We may have worked hard but we had fun, too, when we were growing up. You might say that we lived in a natural wonderland. Wild hogs were plentiful until the 30's. There were deer and the men and boys went out hunting them in the saw grass. The ducks were so plentiful you wouldn't have believed it unless you could have seen the sky black with them. They covered the lake. We ate lots of them. Wild geese came in the winter. The lake had every kind of fish and all of us liked to fish and still do to this day.

except Annie Mae. Henry remembers that he once jumped on a catfish fin that stayed in his foot for a long time before it finally worked out.

We ate lots of rabbits as they were plentiful. East of us was a big stand of custard apple trees. We would take our dog and chase the rabbits around the trees. A rabbit would run into a certain hollow custard apple tree. We would wind a stick into the rabbit's fur and pull it out. Sonny remembers that many times he would reach into a hollow custard apple tree and pull a rabbit out. We would often catch five or six rabbits at a time.

The custard apples could be pulled or would fall off the tree when dead ripe, leaving the center still hanging on the tree. This gave off a fragrant perfume that one could smell a long way off. We liked to eat the ripe custard apples although there wasn't much to them.

Henry remembers a pet alligator that they called up and fed. We caught him when he was about two feet long and kept him until he was over seven feet. There were many alligators, plenty of otters, raccoons, and a variety of turtles.

The otters were really fun to watch when we had time. They would build mud slides into the lake on which to play. We would find their slides, sneak up on them and watch them slide down their slides. We had to keep hidden and be very quiet. They were as playful as kittens.

Most of us trapped at one time or another. A man would come by and buy himself in spending money after he became big enough to hunt a trap. A colored man would skin the animals for him in exchange for the meat.

We had fun playing games among ourselves. Mama played with us at times, her face wreathed in smiles of pleasure, just as if she was as young as we were. She jumped rope as well as any of us, bouncing up and down and not missing a step. She was five feet tall and a little on the plump side. We teased her and called her "five by five". Daddy was right at six feet tall and he was more on the serious side but he too, ran and played with us at times. You could see he thought there was no one like Mama. He almost always called her "Kid".

We did well with odt.

farming in spite of the high water in the early years. We grew green beans, mostly, to sell and a few egg plant and peppers also. We shipped the vegetables out by boat down the North New River Canal at first. Later Daddy grew romaine, lettuce and tomatoes as well as beans and sent his produce to market by rail.

Mama kept two or three hundred chickens which she sold along with eggs. The cows furnished us with milk

Pahokee postpones utility hiring decision

By TOM KISKEN

PAHOKEE—Responding to complaints from local residents, the Pahokee City Council postponed a decision on the hiring of an assistant utilities director until after the city election, Tuesday, May 8.

Council members met, Wednesday, May 2, to interview three candidates. However, several residents issued complaints about the timeliness of the decision, noting three council seats could change hands after Tuesday's election.

Paul Dixon, one of the candidates for the utilities position, said he would not be considered for the position, unless the decision was postponed.

"I feel it is unfair to all the candidates," Dixon said. The new, stable council should be allowed to make the decision, he added.

Mead Maxwell agreed, noting that one candidate for the job, Ed Lee, is also a council candidate, vying for the seat currently held by Ronnie Graydon. To make a decision now, would be unfair to both Lee and Graydon, Maxwell said.

Lee earlier said he would withdraw from the council race, if hired as assistant utilities position.

The assistant utilities director will eventually replace Utilities Director Bill Cross who is retiring July 1.

Councilman W.E. "Billy" McKinstry said he felt a decision had to be made as soon as possible on the utilities position. The EPA and other state agencies have pinpointed the council's hesitance in hiring a replacement as one of the city's utilities inadequacies, he said.

The city has to do all it can, to pacify the EPA and other agencies before they take regulatory action, he said.

"I still feel we should do something, but if everyone else agrees, I'll go along with the decision (to postpone)," McKinstry said.

W.M. Johnson complained that the council seemed to have already made a decision on the job, referring to comments made at an earlier meeting by Council President Ada Conley that she preferred Lee because he was local.

Conley said her statements revealed only her personal opinion and did not constitute a final council decision. "I do feel a local man would be a better candidate even if he wasn't as qualified as some of those out of town people," she said.

The third person listed by the council as a candidate is South Bay City Manager Lomax Harrelle.

Councilman Walter Rashley said that while Harrelle had not formally submitted a resume or application, he had expressed interest in the position.

Harrelle has made no comment on his interest in the position.

Blessing is expensive

SOUTH BAY—You don't always get what you paid for, learned one local resident who lost $360 while trying to secure a blessing for his money.

Roy Mimms, 72, reported to South Bay police that a man calling himself the Rev. Fason stole his money after promising to bless it.

Mimms, according to a police report, said the man visited him Thursday, May 3 and offered to perform a blessing by the water. Mimms accepted the offer and accompanied the man and his woman assistant in a white two-door car, with license tag ZU1, to the Holiday Inn, in Belle Glade.

After putting the $360 in a hat, Mimms reported, the "Reverend" began to bless the money. As part of the ceremony, Mimms and the woman assistant sang and sauntered around the hotel pool.

After circling the pool three times, the woman told Mimms to turn left, then went the other way and disappeared along with the "Reverend." Mimms said he walked back to South Bay and called the police.

Police Sgt. Alfred Gross reported the case is pending investigation.

Glades mail fraud grows

BELLE GLADE—Police warn local businessmen to be wary of a sweepstakes scam where "lucky winners" have to pay cash on delivery in order to claim prizes, which turn out to be inexpensive trinkets or non-existent altogether.

Belle Glade Police Detective John Carney reported that one local businessman recently paid about $200 for a winning package, only to find that all it contained was balloon pens.

"It's a scam and it's a darn good one and it works," Carney said.

The scam, Carney said, usually begins with a phone call to a businessman, informing him that he's won a prize in some type of contest. All the person has to do to gain the prize is pay a C.O.D. charge, ranging from $50 to $200.

"Once they're sent the money, they're gone," Carney said, noting the lucky winner often finds his prize package full of nothing but newspaper. Sometimes, the sweepstakes coordinator will inform the winner, after already extracting one C.O.D. bounty, that to obtain their prize, they have to send more money, Carney added.

"Unless, you know it to be a reputable sweepstakes, don't pay, and a reputable company wouldn't ask for the money," he said. "The 'send money' should be the key."

Carney said he is investigating the whereabouts of three California companies, which have been named in local cases: United Promotions, Promotions International and Scorpio Marketing.

While not saying these three companies were not legitimate, Carney said often the fraudulent companies turn out to be nonexistent with only a postal drop in their name.

Carney said the scam, while new to the Glades, has existed for a long time in Southern Florida.

Marina

"We have full control of it now and we didn't before. We'll be the sole owners and operators," he said.

Back in 1976, the district took over the marina deed, promising to improve the facility, enlarge it and lease it back to the city.

While the city managed the marina, they would worked under the regulations of the water district. If the proposed agreement is enacted, the city will be free to implement their own ideas at the marina, Goodlet said.

As a recreation area and one of the city's largest revenue sources, the marina is of vital importance, Goodlet said.

Altman suggested the city form an advisory board to study possible marina improvements. Goodlet and John Baker, city attorney, should be among the committee members, he added.

"I'd like to see us devote the attention to this project that the sheer amount of dollars warrants," Altman said.

Goodlet said possible projects at the marina could include raising the land elevation of the old section of the marina and installing new sewage and electrical systems. These three projects alone would take "a good chunk of the $700,000," he said.

The money to be raised by the city from the district would cover improvements which the district had agreed to make when they first took over the marina deed.

Altman commented that while the district significantly improved the marina, the original agreement was not totally fulfilled.

Attorney John Baker stressed the city would have no obligations over which improvements they undertake. "We're going to have to make our own ideas," he said.

One of the most important parts of the agreement, Baker said, would prevent the original part of the marina from ever reverting back to the water district. The new part of the marina would revert back to the Water District, if it was sold by the city or was not used for recreational purposes.

Another stipulation in the agreement would give the water district the right to raise water elevation to 21.5 feet at the marina. However, the city could fill in the land it owns to any level.

Altman said negotiations between the city and the water district began several weeks ago at the best of the water district. He credited Jack Maloy, retiring water district director, and other district representatives with working hard toward a fair and mutually beneficial agreement.

A review...

As I see it

by Carl M. Nest
Special to the Herald-Observer

You are missing the best part of your life if you are not a frequent supporter of the programs brought to you at the Dolly Hand Cultural Arts Center. A good example of the diversification presented all year was seen Thursday evening. Gary Morris and his G.M.O. back up group came to Belle Glade. Gary is an accomplished musician with an extremely strong, trained and wide ranged voice. His patter between songs was pleasant and had the audience chuckling. From the beginning he had the large crowd clapping and singing along. It was an appreciative audience, shouting, applauding, and whistling at the end of each number. The five musicians do the back up vocals, as well as conveying their professionalism with their respective instruments with no gimmicks, just good ole Nashville country music and ballads. A great vociferous crowd from Clewiston Florida was present to see their home town idol play the rhythm guitar and Gary Hooker did not disappoint his many friends as he rendered a lively solo. I personally am not country, but I couldn't help but feel the mood, stomp my feet, clap along with the tempo and even give a polite whistle. This is indicative of the entertainment presented all year. You dress up to fit the occasion and you feel good and proud that such an edifice has been erected for all to enjoy. The Arts Center deserves all our support as we look back at a successful year and look forward to another year of great entertainment for all to enjoy. This past season saw first class hits from Broadway, London, Nashville and all the world with such presentations as "Up With People", "Oliver" etc.

Gary Morris was the finale of this season but in the fall, the hard working, dedicated advisory board promises another great variety of entertainment for all tastes. Don't miss the opening of the fall season.

"Why Lady Why."

In mid-concert, Morris even sent G.M.O., including Clewiston native Gary Hooker on rhythm guitar, on a break and took the stage alone with a series of acoustic guitar ballads.

The native Texan's appearance gave Glades country fans a rare chance to see one of the profession's up-and-coming stars. With eight top 10 singles in a row and "The Wind Beneath My Wings" nominated as Song of the Year by the Country Academy of Music, Morris has given notice that he is on his way.

In an interview before Thursday's concert, Morris said the "Faded Blue" album released a month ago, is his best yet. "This is my first album that I'm really comfortable with," he said.

Already another album is in the works and Morris said the new work will include a few surprises. Morris said often some of the best songs are unnoticed because they are not released as singles, adding he hopes to rectify this on the new album due sometime in January.

A best of album could also be released late this summer.

Morris said that while he is beginning to make his mark in the country music profession, he is by no means trying to unseat any of the country kings, such as Hank Williams, Jr. and George Jones.

"George Jones is country music," he said. "He should win the academy's artist of the year every year."

Morris said he has opened concerts for Jones, Williams, Barbara Mandrell and Alabama among others. While revving up a crowd for others is fun, he said he favored solo performances.

Morris said his goal as a recording artist is to be able to reproduce any song live. As a means toward this goal, Morris records and performs on stage with the same musicians.

Much of the credit for his success, Morris said, belongs with his band, G.M.O. He told the crowd at the Dolly Hand Center that "These guys are, I think, the best band in the world."

Writer of most of his own material, Morris noted that his singing and writing talents are very much intertwined. "I would like to think that what I do as a writer would eventually become as important as my singing," he said.

Comparing live performances with studio work, Morris said he derives equal, but very different gratification from the two. Live music gives "instant gratification," while recording produces a less instantaneous but more prolonged satisfaction.

I July to run for the seat, currently held by Bill Bailey.

Officials from the county elections office report that in order to run for the county seat, Cox will have to submit his resignation from the South Bay City Commission by July 5. The resignation would take effect the day new commissioners assume office, regardless of the outcome of the election.

Cox was not available for comment. A city commissioner for the past 13 years, Cox served two terms as mayor of the city. Other democratic opponents for the District Five seat include Lou Martinez, James Quigley and Frank Kohl. Republicans Ken Adams and Arthur Walner are also seeking election.

should be lengthened. The one-week period causes problems with obtaining absentee ballots, he said.

Lee, 51, 2597 Bacom Point Road, also said he would accelerate his campaign over the next week. Tuesday's results are surprising and pleasing, he noted.

"I feel like the people have really accepted me quickly," said Lee, a Pahokee resident for about three years.

A key to his success is just getting to meet and know as many voters as possible, said Lee, now retired and formerly an educational director for a Maryland credit union and before that vice president of Reddix Corp.

Also a candidate for a position with the city as assistant utilities director, Lee said he could not comment on what he would do, if elected to the council and also selected for the utilities position. Lee would have to resign from the council.

Lee said he did not realize he was being considered for the utilities position, when he decided to run for the council. He noted he applied for the assistant director post several months ago.

Miners, 54, 316 Kismet Ave., was returned for a third stint as councilman, saying he was somewhat surprised at his margin of victory.

The breakwater and city manager issues were among those that put him back on the council, Miners said.

One of his first acts would be to determine what options the council has in dealing with the lease of the marina, said Miners, a vocal opponent of the lease.

"I'm going to fulfill my promises to the people," Miners said.

Miners two previous council terms were 1966-68 and 1977-81.

Conley, 49, 388 Kismet Ave., said she has learned from her experiences during the past two years on the council. "I look to be a better council member in my second term," she said.

Noting that she was surprised at the margin of victory, Conley said the strong vote was occurring because of the vote of confidence," she added.

One of the first agendas for the new council, she said, is to find a replacement for Utilities Director Bill Cross.

He rented a building in Belle Glade in 1927 and opened a grocery store. The building was located about where the Mental Health Center now stands on the south side of the canal two blocks west of Main Street. There was more in South Bay than in Belle Glade when we first came, but roads were soon being laid and Belle Glade was building up. People could now get around without having to go everywhere by boat. They began to buy cars.

Royal's announce store manager of the year

Belle Glade - A veteran retail store manager, Tom Johnson, was named of the 1984 G.L. Royal "Manager of the Year" award for Royal's Department Stores.

The award, named in honor of the founder of the south central Florida department store chain, recognizes the outstanding manager in the ten store retail firm.

The 1984 recipient of the award is manager of Royal's Department Store in Immokalee.

"The award recognizes outstanding performance in all areas of retail merchandising and management," said Larry Parrish, Director of Store Operations for Royal's. Johnson is a veteran retail merchandiser with over 26 years of retailing experience. He has been manager of the Immokalee Royal's store for the past three years.

Johnson's store was the leading performer of the chain in several significant categories.

First runner up to receive the award was Dwayne Black, manager of the Royal's Department Store in downtown Belle Glade.

Jim Powell, manager of the Royal's at Glades Plaza Shopping Center in Belle Glade and Jeff Royal, manager of Royal's in Clewiston tied for second runner up.

The award was made during an annual manager's meeting marking Founder's Day for the 54-year-old company.

The founder of the company, G.L. Royal, attended the meeting held in Clewiston and congratulated the winners.

Johnson, 46, came to Royal's from Richway Department Stores in Atlanta. He was the first manager of Royal's at Lake Placid when the company expanded there four years ago.

Previously he managed Gibson retail stores and was for 15 years manager of Sky City Department Store in Charlotte, N.C. Johnson is the father of five children, he and his wife, Ann, and children Tiffany, 4 and Brandy, 8, are residents of Lehigh Acres.

The award came as the highlight of the annual manager's meeting marking Founder's Day for the department store chain. Royal's has retail stores in Belle Glade, Okeechobee, Lake Placid, Clewiston, LaBelle, Pahokee, South Bay and Immokalee.

The company is making it's 54th year of continuous operation in south central Florida.

G.L. Royal, founder and Chairman of the Board of the company, started the chain with a modest mercantile store at Lake Harbor on the southwestern shore of Lake Okeechobee selling groceries and other necessities to pioneer farm and fishing families who were settling in the area after the Great Depression.

The senior Mr. Royal remains active in the leadership of the company which has through the years diversified into real estate, shopping center development and management and more recently into two leading franchise food companies, Burger King and Popeye's Fried Chicken.

Sports

Crusaders honor athletes

BELLE GLADE - Christian Day High School athletes received their night in the spotlight at the schools' athletic awards banquet, Friday, May 4.

Athletic teams, players and coaches were all honored during the banquet.

Senior James Barnwell, a stalwart in three sports, football, basketball and baseball, was named the male athlete of the year to a standing ovation.

Angie Miller, also a sport athlete, received a similar ovation when she accepted her trophy as female athlete of the year.

Ana Hernandez achieved the unusual distinction of winning the same award in three different spots. Hernandez's will to learn and her positive attitude were applauded by coaches David Dailey, softball; Robin Waggoner, basketball; and Cathie McReynolds, volleyball; as she was given the coaches' award in each sport.

Football Coach James Jacks gave out several awards. Barnwell received the MVP award, Warren McMillian picked up the coach's award. Other winners include: Merto Vigos, best back, Jose Ramos, best lineman; Carlos Rodriguez, 110 percent award; Henry Ruiz, most improved player; David Chamblee, best offensive player; and Rodney Brown, best defensive player.

Coach McReynolds recognized several volleyball players for their hard work and effort last fall. The team came a long way last year, she said, and shows great potential for next year.

"I think we have a good chance at district," she said.

Miller was singled out as most valuable player and best defensive player on the volleyball team. Kim Chamblee was named best offensive player and Ashley Perry was named most improved player.

On the junior varsity squad Barbie Taylor was named best all-around player. Nikole Harrell was named most improved player and Janet Barnwell won the coach's award.

Boy's basketball coach Phil Mullins said his team didn't have great natural talent last year, but used determination and hustle to give a good effort in every game.

Mullins said the player most missed when he wasn't playing was senior MVP Jose Ramos.

Jose Garcia won the coach's award. David Chamblee was named most improved player. Merto Vigos was selected best defensive player and Tim Mann won best offensive player honors. Bill Taylor, junior varsity coach, named Michael Everett as best all-around player. Isidoro Fraga was named most improved player and John Kelly gained the coach's award.

Robin Waggoner said her first year as girl's basketball coach was a learning one. The girls, she said, worked hard throughout the year on the way to a 6-5 district tally.

Again, Miller was recognized as most valuable player and also was selected best offensive player. Ashley Perry was named most improved, and Kendra Reineke was honored as best defensive player.

David Dailey, softball coach, said his girls had a very good season, coming back from a mid-season slump to excel in the district playoffs. The girls beat favored Benjamin in the opening round of the districts 22-2, April 25.

Then in their biggest game of the year, the Crusaders knocked off undefeated Jupiter Christian, 5-2, April 26. The Crusaders nearly came back from a five-run deficit against Glades Day in the district championship, but were edged 6-5. Overall, the girls did very well, Dailey said. "I'm very proud. This is the first time we made it to district finals. I'm looking forward to next year."

Dailey named Kim Chamblee his most valuable player. Nikole Harrell won the most improved player award, while Kendra Reineke was recognized for her "golden glove." Arlene McDaniel received a trophy as leading hitter.

Mullins, also coach of the baseball team, said that while the team's loss in the district playoffs was a bit disappointing, overall the team put together a good year with a 12-5 mark.

The diamond nine beat some teams that were favored, but also lost a few that should have been won, Mullins said.

John Mullins was named most valuable player for the baseball team. James Barnwell, who hit better than .500 during the year, was honored as leading hitter. Israel Machado won the golden glove award, David Chamblee was named most improved player and Henry Ruiz gained the 110 percent trophy.

Junior varsity award winners included: Mike Morrison, coaches award; Joey Miller, most improved player and Randy Mills, all-around athlete.

Cheerleaders were also recognized at the dinner. Mayte Figueres was named most valuable cheerleader and Zola Ruiz was named most improved.

Suzanna Perry was selected best all-around junior varsity cheerleader.

Athletic Director Dailey presented plaques to all Christian Day coaches and also credited Athletic Council President Glenn Bair and other coordinating this year's athletic program.

Bair thanked all the volunteers and parents who worked on or with the athletic council and also recognized Dailey for his work as athletic director.

Pahoee girls win state meet

PAHOEE - The Pahoee High School girls' track team made it two in a row, successfully defending their state track title, Saturday and Sunday, May 5-6, in Winter Haven. The girls scored 39 points to win state honors over runnerup Havana who tallied 35 points.

The state title came down to the last race of meet, the mile relay. Blue Devils Allene Addie, Sharrell Newkirk, Karen Joseph and Beverly Hickman won the race in 4:02.7 and enabled their school to retain the state title.

Coach Eddie Rhodes said he was very proud and satisfied with his girls. He said he knew all of the girls were going to have to do well in several different events for the team to have a chance at the title.

"I knew if we did what we could, we would take it," he said. "We didn't have the depth. We needed points from each person to win it."

Relay teams keyed the Pahoee victory, producing two state titles, mile relay and 440, and one second place, the mile medley. "They really did a great job for us," Rhodes said. The 440 team of Mary Pitts, Pamela Laws, Karen Joseph and Chiquita Cato ran a 49.7 for the state title. The mile medley team ran a 4:27.7, beaten out for the state title by Monticello by a mere tenth of a second.

Before the meet, Rhodes said that while the relays were the team's strongest events, the girls would have to score in individual events to retain the state title.

Several individual performers came through for the team. "They put us in the position we needed to be in," Rhodes said.

Beverly Hickman culminated a fine year with a second place finish in the 440, running the course in 59.4.

Pamela Laws finished fourth in the 100-yard dash with a 11.8 mark and Karen Joseph placed fourth in the 220 with a 26.4 time.

Rhodes noted the team faced tough 3A and 4A competition throughout the year. Although the team took awhile to round into form, once the post-season playoffs arrived, the Blue Devils were ready for their 2A competition.

The team is very young with several eighth and ninth graders. If the team can stay together in the years to come, Rhodes commented, Pahoee's track future looks quite bright.

Raider track teams to defend title

BELLE GLADE - Glades Central Community High School girls and boys track teams attempt to defend their state track titles, Friday, May 11, in Winter Haven.

The boys will send 12 athletes to state, coming off a second place finish in the regional meet, held Saturday, May 4, at Tropical Park, Miami.

Seven girls are headed for the state meet. The girls won the regional championship last Friday at Tropical Park.

Boys Looking at the state meet, Coach Willie McDonald said, "We've got a chance."

The Raiders are sending a balanced squad, he noted. "You don't need a whole lot of guys, but you need times," he said.

Homestead won Friday's regional meet, edging the Raiders 80-72 and will be among those providing stiff competition at state. McDonald said Homestead is very strong, particularly in the field events, he added.

McDonald said Glades Central will need high finishes from their mile, mile medley and 440 relay squads to do well at state. Both mile and mile medley teams are coming off regional championships, while the 440 team finished second.

Clyde Benjamin, Alonzo Allen, Thomas Stewart and Santonio Holmes ran the mile medley in 3:31. Eric McPhee, Santonio Holmes, Eric Smith and John Ford won the mile relay with a 3:16 time.

The 440 team of David Billing, Allen, Benjamin and Ford finished second at the regional with a 42.2 time. Other crucial performers include Eric McPhee in the 440, Eric Smith in the 880, Lawrence Duncan, high jump, and Joseph Abrams in the shot, according to McDonald.

Of the four only Abrams is a regional champion, winning the title with a 51-7½ toss. McPhee with a 49.2 mark and Duncan with a 6-6 ½ jump were regional runnersup. Smith's 1:57 time in the 880 was good for third place.

Again, the team's health could mean the difference between winning and losing. McDonald said. The team has suffered from injuries throughout the spring.

"If we have anymore injuries and I'm going to cry," McDonald quipped.

Other Raiders competing in the state meet include: Kenneth Morris, 120 high hurdles; Ford, 220-yard dash; and Roy Bailey, pole vault.

Girls Coach Jay Seider said it will take an excellent effort for the girls to win their third consecutive state title. "If we hit at our best, we could possibly win it," he said.

All the girls will have to reach peak levels for the Raiders, he added. The Raiders won the regional championship, Friday with a score of 58 points to top runnerup Northeast, which managed 48 points.

Among the seven girls that qualified for state are two regional champions. The mile relay team recorded the best time in the state this year in pacing the regional field. Angela Jones, Evette Lyman, Leontia Mann and Georgia Tucker ran the course in 3:56, to set a school record.

Ann Jones also chalked up a regional title in the discus with a 119.7 throw.

Other Raider state representatives will be: Jones, shot; Evette Lyman, high jump, 100-yard dash and 330 hurdles; Denise Bussey, shot and discus; and Ernestine Crawford, discus.

DESPITE all-out effort, the Glades Day Gators were ousted in the sectional championship, 7-1, by Tampa Prep, Friday, May 4.

Service news

Airman Scott E. Meredith, son of Wayne E. and Jeanne S. Meredith of 840 S.E. Third, Belle Glade, Fla., has been assigned to Chanute Air Force Base, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

The airman will now receive specialized instruction in the maintenance analysis field. he is a 1982 graduate of Glades Day High School, Belle Glade.

Pahokee boys finish 3rd at state

PAHOKEE -- The Pahokee High School boys' track team finished tied for third in the state track meet, held Saturday and Sunday May 5-6, in Winter Haven.

The Blue Devils scored 34 points to match Suncoast for third place. Pahokee was edged out by Alachua Santa Fe's winning 44-point total and Clewiston's 38 mark.

Coach Antoine Russell said, "I'm satisfied with my kids, but I'm not satisfied with third place."

Alachua Santa Fe was the surprise of the meet, Russell said, adding he expected Clewiston and Sun-coast to be the main contenders for the title.

Pahokee did produce a couple state champions. Jeffrey Frost won his first 880 of the year with a 1:56.6 time. Russell noted that Frost really came into his own toward the end of the year and said he expected continued success from the runner next year.

The Blue Devils mile medley relay team also brought home a state title. Vinton Oliver, Antony Berry, Cecil Dryden and Frost won the crown with a 3:36.8 time.

Kenny Petakin finished third in the two-mile run with a 10:06.6 time. Russell said that in

Glades Day loses in sectionals

BELLE GLADE -- The Glades Day Gator softball team, district and regional champions, concluded its season with a loss at the hands of Tampa Prep in the Section 3A championship game, Friday, May 4 in Tampa.

Coach Mandy Perez said despite the loss the girls had a great season. With almost the entire starting lineup gone at the beginning of the season, Perez said he had no idea how the team would do.

"It was a total surprise, we really had an enjoyable season," he said of the girls 10-5 mark. Tampa, Perez said, simply had a better ballclub. "They would have beaten us nine out of ten games," he said. The Gators actually took the lead in the game, 1-0 in the second, but Tampa scored four in their half of the second and added three runs in the third.

Six errors by Glades Day didn't help matters any, Perez said. A gusting wind also affected the Gator offense.

Mary Lynn Thompson pitched an outstanding game to shine for the Gators, Perez said. Thompson for the second consecutive game did not walk a single batter.

Only two Gators graduate this year and Perez is looking forward to next season with high hopes. "A lot of coaches say that, but I think I have good reason to look forward to next year," he said.

Okeechobee sweeps to tourney victory

BELLE GLADE -- An Okeechobee team swept to victory, undefeated, in the Belle Glade Junior Women's Club, tourney, held Saturday and Sunday, May 5-6 at Airport Park.

Family Homes beat Glades Sugar, 17-2, Sunday to claim the championship. Mike Bennett, of Family Homes, was named tourney MVP, excelling both offensively and defensively during the tourney.

Glades Sugar, came up through the losers bracket and won six straight games to finish second in the tourney. Both losses came at the hands of the Okeechobee team.

Third place went to Ag. Service, which lost only to Family Homes and Glades Sugar.

Diana Seider, of the Junior Women's Club, said the tourney went real well. Saturday's rainy weather caused the only problems, she added.

About 20 teams participated in the tourney.

relay team finished third in the meet, scoring six points. Pahokee received no points from the high jump event.

Russell noted the team struggled early in the year with a coaching change and a late start. Russell took over the team in mid-season after Amos Turner resigned as coach.

Next year, Russell promised, he would be coach right from the start with one thing on his mind. "Our goal already is to win the state," he said.

Maloy fete slated

Jack Maloy, former executive director of the South Florida Water Management District, will be honored by Everglades Agricultural Area interests Wednesday, May 9, at John B. Boy Auditorium.

A reception is planned for 6:30 p.m., followed by a barbecue dinner at 7:30.

Tickets are available at the Florida Sugar Cane League office for $26. George Wedgworth of Belle Glade will be the featured speaker. Bob Lee will serve as emcee.

Look up!

Those are the two words you should always keep in mind before you pick fruit, prune branches, or saw the limbs from trees. Look up to see if there are any power lines close to the tree. This simple precaution could save you from a serious accident.

Because if a branch or pole makes contact with a power line, you could get a serious shock. And under certain conditions, such as wet weather, you could get a shock just from touching the tree trunk.

We're doing our best to keep trees clear of power lines, but if you see one where Mother Nature got the better of us, call Florida Power & Light.

We want you to enjoy your orange, avocado, mango and other fruit trees. But please play it safe and look up.

That also goes for flying kites, installing antennas, or any other activity that puts you in possible contact with overhead lines.

Encouraging safety is just one way we're working hard at being the kind of power company you want.

Freedom Fest preparations progressing

PAHOKEE—Plans for an autumn fest have been dropped, for at least the time being, according to Pahokee Chamber of Commerce directors.

Chamber of Commerce President James Bennett said, at a chamber meeting, Monday, May 7, that directors will concentrate their efforts on one celebration, the annual Freedom Fest. "As it looks now our Freedom Fest will be our big event," he said.

Plans for an annual autumn festival could still be revived in future years, Bennett said, although there is really not enough time or interest to create a successful event this fall.

Bennett said the chamber will work to expand the Freedom Fest. "Eventually, I'd like to see it become a two or three day event," he said.

Preparations for this year's Freedom Fest, scheduled for July 4, are going well, Bennett said.

The days activities will start at noon with the parade, which will begin at the Masonic Lodge on Larimore Road, according to Bennett. Marchers will proceed down Larimore to Main Street where they will take a right and march to Lake Street. The parade will continue down Lake Street, disbanding at the library.

As a featured part of the parade, local boy scouts and girl scouts will carry flags from each state in the Union, in the order in which the states joined. Bennett said the flag presentation is a special and new part of the parade.

Efforts are continuing to recruit local bands and marching units to join the parade. Bennett said anyone interested in entering a float should contact him at 924-5604.

Bennett said the chamber is trying to organize a water battle between area fire departments to take place immediately after the parade.

Afternoon action will take place on the lakefront where all sorts of booths will be opened, most by local civic and school organizations.

Booths will remain open until 7 p.m., Bennett said.

At 7:30 p.m. a community religious service will be held at the Prince Theater. The Rev. Eldwin Burke, of the First United Church of Pahokee, is scheduled to speak.

Also, a performance by a community wide choir is tentatively planned, Bennett said.

The last event on the days slate will be fireworks. "We think its going to be bigger and better than last year," Bennett said, noting the chamber spent $3,000 on the show, a $500 increase over last year's expenditure.

The Vitale company, Pennsylvania, will return from last year to put on the fireworks show.

In conjunction with the Freedom Fest, Bennett said, an essay contest is being held for local youth. Kids, within three age groups, are being asked "What Does Independence Day Mean To You?"

The essay contest winners will receive $25 and a T-shirt.

In other chamber news, Julia Johnson reported that a new chamber secretary will be hired in the next week.

Hospital Week set May 6

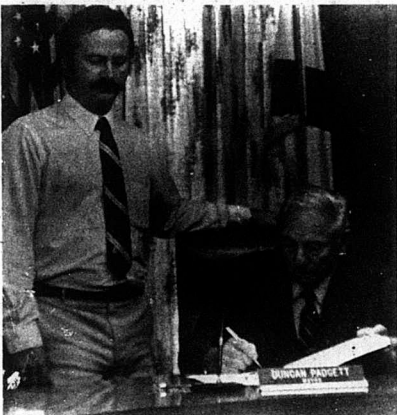

PAHOKEE—Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett signed a proclamation Thursday, May 3 designating May 6-12 as National Hospital Week in Pahokee.

The proclamation honors Everglades Memorial Hospital as a local hospital that maintains high standards and urges all citizens to participate by honoring the hospital, its employees and volunteers.

The theme of National Hospital Week is "The Caring Kind". Everglades Memorial Hospital will be sponsoring a free "Health Mobile" Thursday, May 10 at the Foodway Supermarket from 10:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m.

They also sponsored the same services at Thriftway Supermarket Tuesday, May 8.

The laboratory staff at Everglades Memorial will collect blood specimens from those desiring a complete chemistry profile. The chemistry profile is an 18 test chemistry battery that includes tests for diabetes, kidney, cardiac, liver and other potential problems.

EVERGLADES MEMORIAL HOSPITAL ADMINISTRATOR Donald Anderson looks on as Pahokee Mayor Duncan Padgett signs a proclamation declaring May 6-12 as National Hospital Week.
